

Bishop
Dr. Shirley
Holloway

Bishop Dr. Shirley Holloway is the founder and CEO of The House of Help City of Hope, as well as the landlord, developer, and executor of over $20 million dollars in real estate acquisitions. Bishop Holloway is a native of New York. At the age of fourteen, Bishop Holloway was saved and filled with God's spirit, which would later lead her to develop the House of Help City of Hope. Since its humble beginnings, House of Help City of Hope has served over six thousand individuals, and has been featured in The Washington Post, The Washington Times, The New York Post, The Informer and Afro-American News as well as featured on the 700 club. Currently, Bishop Holloway travels nationally and internationally preaching the gospel and oversees churches in Florida, Louisiana, New York, Israel, England, Russia, Belguim, and Kenya. Additionally, Bishop Holloway is a part of a collaborative which supports HOPE Africa orphanage in Uganda which serves over 100 children. Bishop Holloway is also the mother of Sherman and Delilah and the proud grandmother of Jeremiah, Isaiah and Shemaiah.

We have been blessed find a rare jewel in Bishop Holloway. Her efforts in community outreach have proven that continuous, consistent focus in the right direction can change and redirect people's lives toward positive paths, spiritual living, and independence. Insight and impartation is delivered through BlogTalk Radio show "Keeping It Real" and her television broadcast "Legandary Teachings" as well as "Streaming Live" at hollowayministries.org.
